

SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR YOUNGSTERS ALL NEXT WEEK

Win-My-Chum Week To Be Celebrated By Epworth League of Third Street Church Next Week—Special Programs.

Next week, November 12th to November 19th, will be Win-My-Chum week with the Epworth League of Methodism. This special week set aside for the specific purpose of winning chums to the Christian life and membership in the league and church has been growing in popularity since its inception in 1913. The league of the Third street church of this city has observed this week of young people's service for several years. Large crowds and splendid interest has marked every campaign. This year the league cabinet has asked their pastor, Rev. W. S. Peters, to speak each evening instead of having a different speaker at each service. The Sunday services will begin at 6:15 p. m. and the week night services at 7:15. Services will be of one hour length and will be made as attractive and helpful as possible with the talent at hand. The list of subjects for the week are as follows:

Sunday, Nov. 12 — "What Christ Means to Me."

Monday, Nov. 13 — "Jesus and the Problems of Young People."

Tuesday, Nov. 14 — "Jesus and the Friendships of Young People."

Wednesday, Nov. 15 — "Jesus and the Pleasures of Young People."

Thursday, Nov. 16 — "Jesus and the Ambitions of Young People."

Friday, Nov. 17 — "Jesus and the Life Plans of Young People."

Sunday, Nov. 19 — "Partnership with Christ."

The pastor and leaguers ask and earnestly request that all members of the league and church set aside all other engagements for this one week, attend every service; bring your friends and chums; and do all within their power to make the week count.

The two little sons of Arthur Fears, colored, tenant on the W. K. Spencer farm located on the Elizaville pike about a half-mile from Flemingsburg, were burned to death late Monday afternoon when the tenant house in which the family lived caught fire.

The children who were three and four years of age were upstairs. The mother was working in the Spencer kitchen and the father was in the field when the house caught fire from some unknown source. The only occupant of the house with the children was a 17-year-old sister.

When the older sister learned that the house was afire in the second story she rushed to the boarded-in stairway to rescue her two little brothers but the smoke and flames cut her off and she was unable to get up the stairway. She ran onto the pike and summoned aid but before neighbors could arrive, the entire upper part of the building was afire and the entire house was consumed, burning her two children to death.

An investigation is being made Tuesday to learn the cause of the fire.

FEDERAL INVESTIGATION INTO BIG BOAT FIRE

Official Investigation of Big River Fire Is Started—Captain Greene Says Directors Will Determine Plans.

Federal investigation of the fire which destroyed three steamboats and two wharfbuoys at the river front at Cincinnati on Saturday was begun Monday. The Department of Steamboat and Harbor Inspection of the federal government sent inspectors to the wrecked and half burned craft for an appraisal and an estimate of the damages.

The report will be submitted to the War Department with whatever recommendations the office here sees fit to make.

The fire, which started on the steamer Morning Star, spread to the Island Queen, to the Chris Greene and then to the Tacoma. Two wharf boats caught fire and were destroyed.

The hulls of the boats may be salvaged, river experts said Monday. The forward part of the Island Queen was damaged only slightly although the aft was burned to the water's edge.

Directors of the Coney Island Company will hold a meeting to determine whether two new boats will be purchased.

Captain Gordon Greene, General Manager of the Greene Line Packet Company, which owned the burned steamers Chris Greene and Tacoma made a minute examination of the wreckage of the two boats. He said his company would not proceed in the matter of replacing the boats until a directors' meeting was held.

FIFTY-ONE BODIES ARE REMOVED FROM PENNSYLVANIA MINE

Death List In Mine Explosion May Reach One Hundred—Twenty Men Were Rescued Alive—Some Rescued May Die.

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 7.—Fifty-one bodies have been recovered from the Rellly mine, wrecked yesterday by an explosion of gases, it was announced today. Fifty more bodies are believed to lie in the ruined workings of the shaft.

Rescue crews fought debris and poisonous gases all night in an effort to reach the bodies, entombed in a large subterranean chamber.

About 20 men were rescued alive. Poisonous gases killed most of the men as they made a vain attempt to throw up air-tight barricades against the vapors, it was indicated from incoherent stories told by the rescued men.

A dozen or more of those brought from the shafts are not expected to live. Their faces and bodies were seared and broken by the fire of the blast.

A complete casualty list will not be available until tomorrow, it was said. Thousands of men, women and children, wildly excited, many nearly crazed with grief and anxiety, waited around the shaft Monday night as rescue workers removed bodies from the pit.
